

POLYTER VET

A veterinary physiotherapy clinic at your paws!

From the experience gained in the field of traditional physiotherapy and rehabilitation, EME presents the first modular and portable device designed for veterinary physiotherapy!

Suitable for small, medium and large pets

Polyter Vet is the ideal solution both for veterinary clinics with many workstations and for veterinarians who practice home therapies.

Lightweight, compact and resistant, Polyter Vet is ideal to treat muscular skeleton pathologies in animals such as dogs, cats and horses.

Up to four technologies in one single device

Polyter Vet is a versatile device that can be implemented according to your needs. It is possible to customize it by choosing four technologies including tecar, high power laser, low power laser, ultrasound, electrotherapy and magnetotherapy.

Ideal for treating various pathologies

Veterinary physiotherapy acts on the recovery of motor function, on the prevention of the chronicization of particular pathologies and on the post-trauma and post-surgery recovery improving the quality of life of our beloved animals.

Polyter Vet is ideal to treat:

- Acute traumatic pathology
- Acute inflammatory pathology
- Sub-acute pathology
- Chronic pathology
